Vena Jefferson: Founder and Director of the Philadelphia Jazz Project

The AfroSphere is a special night of interactive global arts and unique design marketplace, bringing together contemporary artists working in various genres presenting fashion fashions of the African diaspora at the Penn Museum's Egyptian Gallery and Chinese Rotunda. Join us as we celebrate the art and culture of the African Diaspora, and create new ways of building audiences, while remaining authentic in our approach. Folk tradition, but also in finding new and exciting ways to present it. In addition, community organizing and expanding the arts and artists of the African Diaspora with a focus on jazz, world music, and contemporary arts are integral components of our program.

How do you Afro? We are especially inspired by the people and their work and their influence on jazz and soul music with saxophonists such as McCoy Tyner, Danny Ray Thompson, Louis Taylor, Louis Adarve, Adam Faulk, Owen Brown, Jr., and New York. Our featured speaker, Adam Faulk, is known for his command of the jazz piano and his ability to bring in an element of improvisation and即兴演奏 into his performances.

The AfroSphere is a special night of interactive global arts and unique design marketplace, bringing together contemporary artists working in various genres presenting fashion fashions of the African diaspora at the Penn Museum's Egyptian Gallery and Chinese Rotunda. Join us as we celebrate the art and culture of the African Diaspora, and create new ways of building audiences, while remaining authentic in our approach. Folk tradition, but also in finding new and exciting ways to present it. In addition, community organizing and expanding the arts and artists of the African Diaspora with a focus on jazz, world music, and contemporary arts are integral components of our program.

How do you Afro? We are especially inspired by the people and their work and their influence on jazz and soul music with saxophonists such as McCoy Tyner, Danny Ray Thompson, Louis Taylor, Louis Adarve, Adam Faulk, Owen Brown, Jr., and New York. Our featured speaker, Adam Faulk, is known for his command of the jazz piano and his ability to bring in an element of improvisation and即兴演奏 into his performances.